1. Comment. Large Soviet supply depots.

25X1A

2. Comment. Possibly troop trains.

25X1A

3. Comment. The total of 6,700 cars loaded for the Soviets in the Berlin railroad district means an increase of 1,000 cars as compared with February 1953, probably as a result of troop movements to troop training grounds. If 3,200 cars which are believed to have been involved in troop movements are deducted from the total of cars, 3,500 cars have been involved in supply traffic. This corresponds to the volume of traffic reported for the preceding months and is normal. The shipments from the fuel depot in Velten increased about 200 percent against February, probably as a result of the troop movements. Comparable data were available for 42 railroad stations of the reported 54.

9. Comment. Units identified on troop trains running from Dallgow to Forst Zinna from 18 to 23 March included mortar and rocket launcher units of the 1st Mecz Div elements of the 283d Gds How Arty Regt of the 1st Mecz Div on 19 March; and units of the 2d Light Arty Brig (US) on 23 March. Shipments running vice versa, according to available information, are identified as follows: a shipment involving a unit of the 2d Light Arty Brig (US) on 2 March a mortar and a rocket launcher unit of the 1st Mecz Div on 21 March and units of the 2d Light Arty Brig (US) which returned to Doeberitz on 25 and 26 March.

- 25X1 14. Comment. The two trains, which are reported for the first time, are fairly definitely believed to have carried recruits, who arrived from the USSR and, in Frankfurt/Oder, were assigned to individual troop units. This accounts for the arrival of recruits at the military posts. No pertinent observations at the border crossing points have been available so far. The first shipment had shuttle-train [redacted] which, in the preceding years, was observed with the large-scale personnel exchange programs in fall. [redacted] in April 1951, was once reported in Kuestrin as consignee of some railroad carloads of military goods from Radebeul; the two shipments, therefore, may have arrived in East Germany via Kuestrin. - 25X1A [redacted]
- 25X1 16. Comment. The two shipments from Jueterbog to Altengrabow on 12 and 26 March are reported for the first time. The trains, which definitely carried troops, may have been occupied by artillery units of the 14th Gds Mecz Div and/or the 199th Light Arty Brig, which went to Altengrabow for firing practices with live ammunition.

- 25X1 21. Comment. Two shipments of medium AAA units of the 32d AAA Div (US) which are known. According to other information, however, the shipment on 23 March, [redacted] had come from Frankfurt/Oder. The shipment which left Kuestrin on 25 March [redacted] is fairly definitely believed to have consisted of two parts, which were loaded in Frankfurt/Oder and Kuestrin. The two unknown majors most probably belong to the abovementioned division.
- 25X1 [redacted]
- 25X1 [redacted]
- 25X1 22. Comment. According to previous information, two trains carrying artillery units of the 9th Gds Tank Div went from Luckenwalde to Fuerstenberg and Neustrelitz on 1 March [redacted] The troops had arrived in Luckenwalde on 25 February. According to the report on transportation mentioned above, another unit of this division went from Neustrelitz to Luckenwalde on 25 March [redacted] and returned on 28 March [redacted] The shipment on 25 March mentioned in the present report, therefore, is rather safely believed to have gone from Neustrelitz to Luckenwalde, rather than vice versa.
